What is WALA & Why Would You Want to be Our Business Partner?

The Wisconsin Association of Legal Administrators, “WALA,” is a professional resource for law office management in Wisconsin. WALA’s mission is to enhance the legal administrative profession by providing opportunities for professional growth, leadership development and peer networking. WALA is a chapter of an international professional association, the Association of Legal Administrators (ALA).

WALA’s 2018 membership consists of over 75 members, representing over 50 firms. The majority of our members' firms are located in the Milwaukee/Waukesha and Madison areas, with the balance in other areas such as Janesville, Stevens Point and Neenah. We are fortunate to have a large percentage of members who are active in the Association and who regularly attend WALA events.

We encourage members to consider those who provide benefits to our Chapter through sponsorships each year when evaluating their needs for goods and services.

We have listed below some of the many reasons we value the business partnerships we have with our business partners.

- Our primary mission is to educate our members to the highest standards possible;
- Chapter members depend upon contacts in the business community who will share information to stay educated in those areas;
- Experience and trust grow from consistent repeated contact with our business partners, which allows administrators to rely on resources outside their firms;
- Trusting business partner relationships bring enhanced credibility to the administrator and improves the quality of management within legal service organizations; and
- Those who successfully provide our member firms with superior service are always our first choice in seeking sponsorships.

We hope you find this Sponsorship Opportunities Guide and the services of our Business Partner Relations Committee useful when planning your future involvement with WALA. Thank you for all you have done and continue to do in helping us achieve our mission. We value your knowledge, participation, and commitment to WALA. We appreciate your support in helping us achieve our goals.

NEW for 2019!

- Organizations who were a Business Partner in 2018 and register for 2019 at the next sponsorship level up will receive a 10% discount on their 2020 sponsorship fee. For example, a Business Partner who was at the Bronze level in 2018 and registers for the Silver level in 2019 will get 10% off their 2020 Business Partner fee.
- Organizations who register as a new Business Partner in 2019 will receive an extra ticket of their choice to one of the following events: Board of Directors Meet & Greet Social, Spring Social, Fall Social or the Expo.
- Any Business Partner who brings in a new Business Partner or member to WALA during 2019 will get a choice of:
  - Discount of $100 on 2020 Business Partner fee or
  - One ticket to WALA event of your choice or
  - One WALA Social Media Blast

WALA Sponsorship Commitment Procedures

In order to preserve our ability to distribute WALA sponsorship opportunities in an equitable manner, we follow a first-come, first-served policy with prior year sponsors having a three-week right to renew period. WALA will make an effort to honor all prior year's business partners' requests; the "right to renew" does not guarantee the level of the previous year. This does, however, afford renewing business partners advance opportunity to commit. All levels are available on a first-come, first-served basis. All participants will be notified of their confirmed sponsorship level.

Opening day 2019 sponsorship commitments:
Current 2018 Business Partners: November 19, 2018
New Business Partners: December 10, 2018

Sponsorship levels still available after December 10, 2018 will continue to be available on a first-come, first-served basis with drawings being held if multiple commitment forms are received on the same day for the same opportunity.

Please note the 2019 Business Partner Program benefits will run on a calendar year basis – defined as January through December 2019. WALA reserves the right to not accept registration or terminate the relationship with any business partner who does not comply with the guidelines established in this Sponsorship Opportunities Guide.

Payment Procedure

For all sponsorship packages, payment is due upon commitment. If payment arrangements need to be made for special circumstances, please coordinate with Maribeth Karpinski, VP of Business Partner Relations. WALA reserves the right to release a sponsorship level if:

- Another sponsor requests the same level and registers with sponsorship commitment form and registration fee; and/or
- Payment is not received in accordance with agreement.

Payments should be made payable to "Wisconsin Association of Legal Administrators," along with a completed 2019 Sponsorship Commitment form, and mailed or delivered to:

10 Tips to Maximize the Value of Your Business Partnership

We offer the following suggestions for making the most of your sponsorship:

1. Reserve your Sponsorship Level early so that your business benefits from the full year of advertising! (Sponsorship year is based on the calendar year.)
2. Keep your contact information, especially your e-mail addresses, current with WALA so that we may invite you to events and update you on the latest WALA happenings.
3. Make an effort to attend all WALA events that your sponsorship level offers. Events are planned to provide opportunities to network with members.
4. Know your market so that you ensure the firm you are approaching would benefit from your product or service.
5. Remember that if a firm has an administrator, the firm is trying to control “non-billable” distractions of attorneys. Managing partners and corporate counsel depend on administrators as their resource for information, much of which administrators garner through ALA/WALA resources.
6. We all have resource files. Even if we don’t have a current need, we will file your information for future reference. Please note that it is very difficult to give you “five minutes” when you arrive in our office without an appointment.
7. Remember that good news travels quickly and WALA members have round-table discussion opportunities at nearly every luncheon meeting. Oftentimes, members having a good experience are quick to recognize and share their positive experiences – especially of our Business Partners.
8. Encourage fellow business partners to consider WALA Business Partner opportunities – your goodwill will be recognized with a choice of:
  - Discount of $100 off 2020 Business Partner fee
  - Ticket to a WALA event of your choice
  - WALA Social Media blast
9. If you are having trouble getting an appointment with a member, ask them what would work best for them. Perhaps they would prefer first receiving materials by mail or would like you to contact them at another time in the future. Find out what their preference is and try to work around their needs.
10. Lastly, be proud of your WALA Business Partnership! You are helping WALA achieve its mission to enhance the legal administrative profession. Display the WALA sponsorship logo on your print materials whenever possible.

WALA Business Partner Advisory Panel (BPAP)

The purpose of the Business Partner Advisory Panel is to provide for a more structured approach for business partner feedback to the Association regarding the Business Partner Program. The BPAP program objectives, selection and composition, term of office and other pertinent information regarding this opportunity may be found on the WALA website (www.wi-ala.org).

Membership in BPAP is open to all business partners at the Bronze level and above. Through an application/selection process, panel members are nominated by the Business Partner Relations Committee and approved by the WALA Board. The current members of the BP Advisory Panel are:

Two-year terms ending 4/1/2020:

Affinity Consulting (Silver)

Represented by Jeff Krause

Creative Business Interiors (Gold)

Represented by Liz Plant

All-State Legal (Bronze)

Represented by Kyle Rood

All business partners are encouraged to offer feedback directly to the VP of Business Partner Relations (Maribeth Karpinski, mkarpinski@lindner-marsack.com).

“Rules of Engagement”

What works is creating a relationship of mutual respect and trust. This is not the same thing as becoming friends. Many business partners think that they need to be “buddy-buddy” with their customers, and then the business partner gets understandably upset when after taking them to the ballgame, playing golf, buying meals and all the standard friendship building things business partners often do, the customer buys the product from somebody else.

A professional relationship of mutual respect and trust is built on the acknowledgement from both sides that each party has value to contribute to the relationship.

Establish Guidelines -- Regardless of how competent an administrator is, the business partner’s technical people are certain to know more about the product you are using than you do. Regardless of how competent a business partner representative is, it is certain that the user is bound to know more about the process into which the product must fit than the business partner does. If we recognize that, we can move quickly to a professional relationship of mutual respect and trust by following some simple rules.

For the administrator:

1. Be honest. If you are absolutely honest with the business partner, you’ll get the business partner’s attention and his or her respect.
2. Provide all the details. If you want competent and quick applications assistance, and help specifying a product, make sure you tell the business partner everything you know about the process so that the business partner can sort them out.
3. Provide adequate time for the business partner to respond.
4. Tell the business partner what the rules are. If you are the decision maker, say so. If you are not the decision maker, make sure the business partner knows who will be making the decisions, and on what basis the purchase decisions will go forward. There is nothing more frustrating than to spend several months working on a project design and then find out that the real purchaser has never heard of you, nor seen the contribution you’ve made to the project. (Translation: lost order, angry business partner and loss of respect and trust of the user by the business partner.)

For the business partner:

1. Make sure you know the rules up front. Spend the time asking about the project, its goals, its direction and who is in charge. If the user won’t tell you, spend your time working with those who will.
2. Be ruthlessly honest with the customer. If you know of a better solution that you don’t sell, cut your losses and say so. This builds trust and respect.
3. Work with users who guarantee that if you meet all the conditions of satisfaction, you’ll get the order.
4. The contact information of WALA members and fellow business partners is to be used for business purposes only, and not for political, personal or other non-business purposes.

Once you’ve developed a relationship of mutual respect and trust, both the user and the business partner can work closely together to get as much value out of the relationship as they put into it.

Business Partner Events

In 2018, we gathered to celebrate the mutually beneficial partnership we share with our valued Business Partners.

Fall Social & Charity Fundraising Event

The Fall Social and charity event is an effort to touch base with our qualifying Business Partners in a social gathering later in the year. In the past, this event hosted a Casino night, wine tasting/information, hors d'oeuvres, 70s costume party, great music and a couple of hours to mingle. The event includes a silent auction with all proceeds going to a charitable organization. We encourage members and business partners to donate items for the auction.

In the past, our fundraising efforts were donated to Heavenly Hats, CASA (Court-Appointed Special Advocates for Children), Boys & Girls Clubs, Special Olympics, Ronald McDonald House and the Wounded Warrior Project.

Spring Social

The Spring Social is another opportunity for members and qualifying business partners to mingle in a social setting. Although the event will vary from year to year, the 2018 event was a bowling party to celebrate 40 years of WALA.

Annual Business Partner Expo - ACE Conference on Education or Big Hearts Fundraising Campaign

This event is held at a convenient location between Milwaukee and Madison. Members and business partners gather for the annual business partner expo at our ACE Conference of Education or Big Hearts Fundraising Campaign to visit with members one-on-one and share the latest developments and products in their industries. Business partners also have the opportunity to donate a door prize. This event is a unique opportunity to present services/goods to members directly, whereas the other scheduled events allow more social opportunities to network with members.

Advertising Opportunities

CLASS ACTION is a quarterly newsletter published by WALA. This newsletter is published to provide information for the education and benefit of legal administrators, law office managers, managing partners of law firms, and others interested in law firm management. Publication is via electronic format made available to members via e-mail and posted on the WALA website. This newsletter is an excellent way for qualified business partners to advertise their business or provide an opportunity for an article in your area of expertise. Sample of the most current newsletter may be viewed by visiting: <http://www.wi-ala.org/about-us/class-action-newsletter/>

MONTHLY EDUCATIONAL MEETINGS. Each membership year, approximately eight meetings are planned in Madison and eight meetings in Milwaukee. Educational topics are presented in an effort to keep our members informed of developments in the legal industry. All business partners are recognized by making available to each meeting participant a hand-out recognizing and listing contact and phone numbers. Qualifying Diamond, Gold and Silver Level Business Partners will receive invitations to attend select meetings. Please see the luncheon flyer offered at the end of this Guide.

WALA WEBSITE. WALA hosts a Web site that will prove to be a valuable resource for you as a business partner. Quarterly newsletters are available to the public (as well as delivered to your e-mail address). Please visit www.wi-ala.org often. Top level sponsors are also promoted on the website; all business partners are recognized.

If you know a business that would benefit from a Business Partnership with WALA, please contact us. Interested companies may contact Maribeth Karpinski @ 414-273-3910. For program details, see www.wi-ala.org Business Partners.
